

Trevor's practice focuses on construction law representing and working alongside owners, general contractors, and subcontractors in both the private and public construction industry. He has experience litigating and resolving disputes, including arbitrations, mediations, and bid protests. Trevor is also experienced in interpreting and drafting construction contracts, government contracts, and various agreements used in construction and commercial matters.

Prior to joining Oles Morrison, Trevor developed his litigation skills as a judicial extern with the Honorable Theresa L. Fricke in the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, as a finalist in the Seattle University 2018 James E. Bond ABA Moot Court Competition, and as an extern with the King County Prosecuting Attorney's Office. Before pursuing a career in law, Trevor was a middle school teacher in Seattle Public Schools.

In his spare time, Trevor collects vinyl records, loves to cook, explores the PNW mountains, and plays golf with his friends.
